WINE

DANTE WINE LIST:

the wine list at Dante is Omaha's only all Italian wine list. We are also the only restaurant to feature wines from each region of Italy. Each region has its own unique characteristics that make the wines & grapes distinctly unique and different from any other region of Italy. As you read through our selections, you will first have our table wines, followed by wines offered by the glass & bottle, then each region with the bottle sections after that. Below is a little terminology to help you with your selections:

Denominazione di Origine Controllata e Garantita or D.O.C.G. - highest quality level of wine in Italy. Wines produced are of the highest standards with quantity & quality control. 74 D.O.C.G.'s exist currently.

Denominazione di Origine Controllata or D.O.C. - second highest standards in Italian wine making. Grapes & wines are made with standards of a high level, but not as high a level as the D.O.C.G. 333 D.O.C.'s exist currently.

Denominazione di Origine Protetta or D.O.P. - European Union law allows Italian producers to continue to use these terms, but the EU officially considers both to be at the same level of Protected Designation of Origin or PDO—known in Italy as Denominazione di Origine Protetta or DOP. Therefore, the DOP list below contains all 407 D.O.C.'s and D.O.C.G.'s together Indicazione Geografica Tipica or I.G.T. - wines made with non-tradition grapes & methods. Quality level is still high, but gives wine makers more leeway on wines that they produce.

HIGHLIGHTED REGION: TUSCANY

The Tuscan Wine Region is considered one of the most important in all of Italy. It's here that Sangiovese flourishes, producing a variety of distinct and influential wines.

CHIANTI

The Chianti area exports more wine than any other in Italy, and wines labeled with DOCG must contain at least 80% Sangiovese. Wines from the Chianti Classico, Rufina and Colli Senesi DOCGs will typically spend more time in oak and in turn be more complex.

Now Serving:

2010 Familia Losi Gran Selezione, Chianti Classico $80/bottle

ROSSO DI MONTALCINO

Rosso di Montalcino is also made from Sangiovese, but only requires a year of aging, resulting in more approachable wines.

Now Serving:

2014 Altesino Rosso di Montalcino $80/bottle

BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO

Brunello, a clone of the Sangiovese grape, is only grown in the Montalcino area and requires a minimum five years of aging to be classified as Brunello di Montalcino.

Now Serving:

2011 Terralsole Brunello di Montalcino $155/bottle

SUPER TUSCANS

A handful of visionary winemakers that chose not to follow the DOCG regulations realized that grape varieties, such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Syrah, excelled on the coastal plain of Toscana. This is where the Super Tuscan wines were born and have thrived over the past several decades.

Now Serving:

2015 Le Volte della Ornellaia $85/bottle
